Gentlemen:

Further to our June 20, 1984 letter regarding the above subject, we wish to advise you that MichCon is in the process of identifying all sites ever owned or used by it or its predecessors, for the manufacture of gas for heating and illumination purposes. Manufactured gas was replaced by natural gas many years ago, and the captioned site, for example, was last used full-time for the manufacture of gas approximately forty years ago. MichCon has recently become aware of the fact that some sites used for the manufacture of gas around the country have been found to contain excessive volatile organic compounds, heavy metals or base/neutral compounds. We shall promptly advise you and the EPA's Region V of the location of such sites.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. SAFRAN
Director
Engineering, Planning and Design
